

INDIGENOUS HEALTH CONFERENCE NOVEMBER 20-21, 2014

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

Objectives

- Discuss health disparities & burden of disease among Indigenous peoples in Canada, highlighting certain conditions with a high burden of disease.
- Start a dialogue about potential long term solutions towards health equity.
- Challenge stereotypes and misperceptions about Indigenous peoples in Canada.
- Discuss cultural competencies and safety in working with First Nations, Inuit and Métis populations.
- Job Fair to facilitate matching healthcare providers with working opportunities with Indigenous populations.

Target Audience

Any interested party is welcome. The focus will interdisciplinary healthcare providers and may include:

- physicians
- nurses
- nurse practitioners
- midwives
- allied health providers
- community health workers
- students
- social workers
- public health specialists and policy makers
- researchers

Themes

- Women's health (ie, reproduction, violence)
- Children's health
- Mental health (ie, substance abuse)
- Infectious disease
- Chronic disease
- Nutrition
- Determinants of health (ie, housing, poverty)
- Environmental health
- Health care systems
- Cultural competency and safety
- Traditional ways and self-determination
- Indigenous research and population health data

Dates to Note

Abstract Submissions Open:	Monday, March 10, 2014
Abstract Submissions Close:	Monday, June 23, 2014 at 11:59pm
Successful Submission Notification:	Friday, August 15, 2014
Presenter Response:	Friday, September 5, 2014

For more information and to submit your Abstract online, click on the link below:

SUBMIT ABSTRACT