

By 2025, the Kahtnuht'ana Dena'ina have enhanced and strengthened the prosperity, health and culture of their people and tribe by:

- Working toward united effort with Native organizations and other governments that impact our people
- Developing and implementing a tribal education system
- Living our traditional values and practices
- Empowering our sovereignty
- Continuing to demonstrate resiliency
- Striving for excellence in all of our programs
- Elevating the wellness of our people
- Using our talents and resources to ensure we are able to take care of ourselves and share with others

Our Values

- Family – honoring and sustaining health and happiness of family as a "first responsibility"
- Stewardship – respectful use of land, resources and all creations
- Spiritual Beliefs – acknowledging the existence of a higher power and respecting spiritual beliefs
- Education – passing down cultural knowledge and traditions and supporting formal education

How Kenaitze Is Using the ISDEAA, IHCIA, and ACA to Expand Services

Self Determination and Expansion of Services

- Started in 1970's with one Public Health Service Nurse
- Compacted for Health Services in early 90's
- Partnered with State of Alaska in late 90's for Community Behavioral Health and Chemical Dependency services to serve all in community
- Indian Health Service Joint Venture Award in FY11
- Opportunity to design facility to meet our needs
- Increase staffing level to meet the needs of the population we serve
 - Optometrist, Physical Therapist, Wellness Educator, Expanded Pharmacy, Dental Expansion, Tribal Doctor, Pediatrician, Women's Health Physician, Primary Care Physician, Quality and Compliance staff, expanded administrative support
- Integration of existing medical and behavioral health staff
- Expansion of Na'ini Social Services and integration of services
- Expanded services through Tribal Court
